SOLUTION

Allow TimePoint to manage attendance, schedules and payroll. Today, businesses may have employees clocking in or out by other associates, but with TimePoint's picture attendance, only the actual employee can do it. From a managerial perspective, it is also important to ensure your employees' appearances are appropriate for work, which ultimately creates a better image for your business.

TimePoint will also improve scheduling by keeping track of which employees arrive and leave on time. In addition, your business can eliminate payroll errors by recording employee history such as actual time worked and how much time should have been worked, all through TimePoint. Most important TimePoint is an acknowledgment control system that keeps track of all employee acceptances.
